

TEACHERS KILLED
BY SULTAN'S MENSTARTLING NEWS RECEIVED FROM TURKEY.

The Christian Ministers in Trebizond and Erzeroum Fall Victims of Moslem Fanaticism—Washington Not Yet Officially Informed—A French Fleet is Threatening Constantinople.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Constantinople says that all the Armenian Christian teachers in the Trebizond and Erzeroum districts have been killed.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Standard from Constantinople says that every day brings news of fresh massacres. It is quite clear if the powers waste additional time in negotiations the need for these negotiations will be past. The Standard's Constantinople correspondent also says that recent details received from Erzeroum indicate that the massacre there was worse than at first reported. The outrages were evidently organized and planned days beforehand, and the pillage was on a colossal scale. The Armenians who escaped were literally left naked.

Lord Salisbury's speech last Saturday at the lord mayor's dinner has thrown the sultan and members of the court into a state of panic. Abdul Hamid entertains the greatest fears of a declaration by the powers extending their jurisdiction over a portion of the Turkish empire or the calling of a general European conference. It is generally agreed, however, that that end is not far distant.

NO NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

Minister Terrell and Our Consuls Give No Information of Massacres.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Disquieting rumors regarding the security of the Christian teachers in Turkey between Trebizond and Erzeroum were about the state department yesterday, but the officials refused to ally the popular apprehension. There is ground for the belief that the department had heard from Minister Terrell, and that his advice, while showing that a perilous state of affairs confronts the American missionaries and teachers in that section, do not state that actual murders have been reported to him. The navy department also has a most energetic officer as near to the scene of the rumored trouble as a warship can get in the person of Capt. O'Neill of the Marblehead, and up to the close of office hours he had made no report of a massacre, as he would undoubtedly have done had the news reached his ears. The nearest state department representative is United States Consul Jewett at Sivas, but he also has been silent.

Admiral Selfridge arrived at Marseilles Tuesday and relieved Admiral Kirkland of the command of the European station and hoisted his flag on the San Francisco, under orders from the secretary of the navy to proceed at once to join the Marblehead in Turkish waters. With these two vessels present it is felt that our government will have done all possible to protect the Americans in the interior of Turkey, taken in connection with a most vigorous notice from Minister Terrell that the United States will hold the porte responsible for any injury they may sustain. It is felt that these two vessels are ample to protect American residents in Turkey, even in the event of actual hostilities, and to assemble a strong naval force there now might be construed as a joint participation by the United States in the demands which are being made on the porte, whereas the government has no intention of becoming embroiled in any European complications.

FRENCH FLEET ARRIVES.

Formidable Naval Force Now Threatens Constantinople.

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—A squadron of French warships has sailed from the Piraeus for Turkish waters, and it is stated that an Italian fleet will rendezvous with the British fleet within a few days. There has been most serious trouble at Caesarea, not far from Jerusalem; but no details of the rioting there have yet reached this city.

A great panic prevails at Moosh, owing to the Kurdish movement. All those who can do so are fleeing from the city and neighborhood. Many people are reported to have been robbed and murdered while fleeing. The Kurds are said to be in arms throughout the district. Troops are, it is claimed by the authorities, being hurried to the spot.

Replying to the inquiry of the United States ambassador, Mr. Alexander W. Terrell, as to the safety of the American missionaries, Commissioner Darnham has telegraphed from Harput saying that the missionaries are alive, but in extreme danger. Mr. Terrell has informed Tewfik Pasha that his government will be held responsible for the safety of the Americans. The Turkish minister for foreign affairs has assured Mr. Terrell that everything possible will be done for their protection. As Mr. Terrell has great influence with the palace authorities, it may be presumed that Tewfik Pasha will keep his word.

It is now believed that the powers will not take definite action against the porte until all the naval squadrons have assembled in Turkish waters, which will be about the time that the British ambassador to Turkey, Sir mainpurne, returns here after consulting with his government as to the future action of Great Britain. In the meanwhile the state of suspense is decidedly wearing, and the ambassadors themselves will be greatly relieved when the hour for action upon the part of Europe arrives. Nobody doubts that this time is coming; it now seems to be only a question of days.

ANOTHER COMPLICATION.

Turkish Government Becoming Profligate in Making Delays.

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—The Turkish minister for foreign affairs, Tewfik Pasha, replied yesterday to the notes of the diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, Russia and France, assuring them, as he had previously assured the ambassadors of Germany, Austria and Italy, that the Turkish government's statement as to what measures it intends to take for the suppression of the disorders in Asia Minor will be presented to the ambassadors "without delay." Another complication seems likely to arise, which may give the sultan further excuse for inaction. The Halli Rifat ministry is said to be tottering and another cabinet change is likely to occur at any time. The rumors concerning the possible deposition of Abdul Hamid are still current, but the statement that the imperial yacht is lying off the palace with steam up, intimating that the sultan is preparing to seek safety in flight, is a weak fabrication. The imperial yacht is sadly out of repair and is laid up for the winter. The statement published in the United States that there has been trouble at Angora and Palu and that 1,000 Armenians there have been massacred is also a clumsy invention. No news of a disturbance of any kind has reached here from Angora or Palu.

TALK ON NEW TESTAMENT.

Second Day's Session of National Baptist Congress.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 14.—The second day's proceedings of the national Baptist congress began yesterday with a discussion on "The Books of the New Testament in the light of Modern Research." Many other papers were read. There was also an informal discussion of the proposition submitted by the Chinese government to the Protestant bodies of the world, looking to the establishment of a protectorate over the various missionary stations in that country. It is probable that the present gathering will appoint a committee to investigate the subject and prepare a report.

The secretary's report shows that the Baptists of the north now have upward of 8,000, the south over 17,000, and colored about 13,000 churches. The word "church," however, includes organizations, and therefore, it is not meant that a separate church building exists in every case. The value of church property of the north now amounts to more than $50,000,000; the south, with far more Baptists, has but $19,000,000 in church property, and the colored church a trifle more than $9,000,000. The total membership in the United States is 3,795,390.

Trainmen Were Asleep.

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 14.—A wreck on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad at Warwick, fifteen miles south of here, at 3 o'clock a. m. yesterday resulted in the death of two men. The engineer of a freight train stopped and whistled for a flagman to be sent out. The conductor, Charles Ernst, and brakeman, John Adams, were asleep in the caboose and did not hear the signal. A second section ran into the first at the rate of twenty miles an hour. Both Ernst and Adams were killed. The money loss will be $10,000.

Cars Break Away from a Locomotive. Summit, N. J., Nov. 14.—Four cars which were being drawn up a steep grade on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, near Short Hills, early yesterday broke away from the locomotive and ran back at great speed, crashing into the locomotive of a newspaper train which was moving forward at a good rate. Reuben Tindall, engineer of the newspaper train, was killed and his fireman, Hiram Rush, badly injured.

Wreck on a Southern Railway.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 14.—A dispatch from America, Ala., reports a disastrous wreck on the Southern road at that place. There was a collision between a work train and a train loaded with coal. Tony Cunningham, Mose Maghee, Luke Boiles, Sam Franklin, all laborers on the work train, were killed. Engineer Mathews of the coal train, Firemen Phillips and Sewell of the same train and Andrew Townsend and Pink Williams of the work train were seriously hurt.

Troops Ready to Fight Indians.

Washington, Nov. 14.—At the request of the interior department, General Wheaton, commanding the department of Colorado, has been instructed to hold a troop of cavalry in readiness to be dispatched, if necessary, to the scene of the killing of two Indians at the southern Utah agency, Colorado.

No Gold Shipped Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 14.—The rumor that there were to be large shipments of gold yesterday was unfounded. Not an ounce of the metal left by the outgoing steamships to Europe. No order was made on the subtreasury for any gold for shipment, and the officials there had heard no rumor of a demand for the end of the week. Orders, however, came at the last moment, the cashier said, and there was no forecasting what might be wanted for Saturday's steamer.

FIVE MEN DROWNED
AT ROCKAWAY INLETOYSTER DREDGE SUNK WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Crew of the James W. Boyle Go Down to Death Without a Chance of Escape—Vessel Turns Bottom Side up and Traps the Crew Like Rats in a Cage—No Bodies Found.

New York, Nov. 14.—The steamboat James W. Boyle, technically known as an oyster dredge, foundered off the bell buoy at Rockaway Inlet yesterday, and all on board were drowned. She was on her way from Bridgeport, Conn., to Rockaway, with a cargo of seed oysters, which were to be planted there. She was chartered by Walter B. Wood of Inwood, L. I., from her owner, James W. Boyle, the well-known Tammany leader, after whom she is named. The drowned were:

WALTER B. WOOD, 40, oyster planter and charter, Inwood, L. I.

PETER J. McDONALD, 28, captain, Princess Bay, S. I.

JOHN FINN, 38, engineer, Rondout, N. Y.

JOHN CARROLL, 31, cook and deckhand, Hoboken, N. J.

JOHN NEWBURY, 40, deckhand, Tottenville, N. Y.

The wreck was sighted by the tug Mutual. When the tug drew sufficiently near to disclose the floating upper woodwork of the wrecked steamer plainly, it was seen that there was no sign of life about the wreckage. It had been hoped that the crew of the steamer, all of whom were good sailors, would be found clinging to the floating woodwork. Captain Deakin ran the prow of his tug deliberately and with hard force into the pilot house, for the purpose of breaking it, and recovering any bodies that might be within. As the timbers of this structure and of the wooden cabin attached to it were shattered, mattresses, pillows, and chairs floated out, but no bodies.

For more than an hour the Mutual remained in the vicinity, and did not leave until it was absolutely certain that none of the crew was alive. The probabilities are that the Boyle was so rapidly turned bottom-side up by the enormous waves that the men were buried under her, and had no chance for their lives.

TALKS OF THIRD TERM.

President Cleveland Said to Have Declared Himself.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 14.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Globe-Democrat says: President Cleveland has taken notice of the third term talk. He has told a member of the cabinet that he will not permit his name to be considered in connection with the nomination next year. The expression came about through a conversation started by the member of the cabinet regarding party plans next year. In what this secretary said there was an intimation of a desire to know the president's personal intentions. Mr. Cleveland responded promptly and plainly. He gave the secretary to understand that his mind was fully made up, and that if the third term movement progressed beyond talk he would stop it.

National Baseball League Meeting.

New York, Nov. 14.—The first day's session of the magnates representing the twelve clubs comprising the National Baseball league is over and no revolutionary moves have been made. For the last few days it has been rumored when the presidents of the several clubs met there would be a wordy war and a good deal of wing clipping, particularly between two prominent eastern representatives. Everything so far has passed off amicably, and when the delegates adjourned to meet this forenoon they all seemed to be on the best of terms with each other.

Ex-Senator Spooner Hurt.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 14.—While crossing the Columbia river on the transfer boat Ex-United States Senator Spooner fell from a pier step, his abdomen striking a projecting rod. He suffered great pain and some feared he was injured internally. A surgeon was in waiting here, and on the arrival of the train he examined the injured man. The injury is not necessarily serious, but Senator Spooner will be compelled to remain quiet for several days.

Big Fire at Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 14.—The main building of the Randolph paper box factory was totally destroyed by fire last night, throwing 500 girls temporarily out of employment. The building cost $77,000, and contained machinery valued at $76,000, in addition to the stock. Loss, $150,000; insurance, $97,000.

Killed by Falling Walls.

Newark, O., Nov. 14.—Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock one of the walls of the Heisey glass plant gave way, carrying Samuel Cooper down to instant death and injuring W. W. Brooklin and Albert Boss, the latter dying within an hour. The men were employed in putting in iron girders for a second floor. Damage about $10,000.

Chicago Business Men Meet.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—A meeting of business men will be held at the Sherman house this afternoon to take effective steps to secure the Republican national convention for Chicago.

OWETH'S JOB.

Refuses the Appointment of Military Commander at the State University—Chippewa Fallsman Gets a Heavy Damage Verdict—Milwaukee Plans To Get the Populist Convention.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—[Special]—Captain W. R. Evans of the United States army, who was recently appointed military instructor at the state university, in place of Lieutenant Chynoweth, who resigned owing to the sophomore-freshmen trouble, has declined the position on the ground of ill health but the real reason, it is said, is that the regents first considered another man.

Got a Heavy Verdict.

Chippewa Falls, Nov. 14.—[Special]—Carl J. Johnson was today awarded $8,000 damages in his suit against the Chippewa River Company, for injuries received while in the employ of that corporation.

Milwaukee Wants Populist Convention. Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 14.—Chairman H. E. Taubeneck, of the national committee of the People's party, writes from Marshall, Ill., to Robert Schilling of this city that he will visit Milwaukee during the early part of next week for the purpose of conferring with the citizens relative to bringing the next national convention of the party to Milwaukee. The local committee on funds for preliminary expenditures reports satisfactory progress, and it is believed that all the cash needed for the expenses will be subscribed and on hand soon.

ARRAIGNS THE BANKS.

General Master Sovereign Charges Them with Conspiracy.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The chief public interest in the meeting of the Knights of Labor today was the addresses of General Master Workman Sovereign and General Worthy Foreman Michael J. Bishop. Much of Mr. Sovereign's address was devoted to the alleged treachery of those who headed the revolt against the general officers of the order during the last year. "Labor is now between the devil and the deep sea," he continued. "Capital has monopolized the elements of production, and labor is in competition with itself for the right to live. A money oligarchy is fast wiping out the last vestige of individual liberty. Construction by judicial authority is already given to law, placing all labor organizations in the category of criminal conspiracy. The associated banks have declared war on the money of the people, and the whole plutocratic fraternity has invaded the realm of free government and constitutional security." The address of General Worthy Foreman Bishop dealt with the attacks made upon the Knights of Labor by revolting members, but contained little of general importance beyond an appeal for stronger organization.

National Grange in Session.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 14.—The twenty-ninth annual session of the National Grange opened in Horticultural hall yesterday with nearly all of the national officers present and delegates representing thirty states. The morning session was brief. At the evening session a letter was read from Susan B. Anthony, president of the National Woman's Suffrage association, urging the convention to speak on the woman suffrage question with no uncertain voice, and if possible to direct special effort toward California next year, where the constitutional amendment is to be voted upon.

Judge Thurman 82 Years Old.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Judge Allen G. Thurman was 82 years old yesterday. On account of his feeble health there was no celebration of the event. Numerous telegrams of congratulation were received from prominent men. Judge Thurman was able to eat heartily and seems to be rapidly shaking off the effects of his recent injury.

Honor Archbishop Ireland.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 14.—A banquet was given at the Omaha club last evening for Archbishop Ireland. The affair was a very elaborate one. Over 100 plates were laid. The speakers were Mayor Bemis, Archbishop Ireland, Gov. Holcomb, J. M. Woolworth, W. F. Gurley, Henry Estabrook and Edward Rosewater.

Called It Justifiable Homicide.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 14.—George Phillips was yesterday acquitted of the charge of killing William Mitchell, a negro, August last. Phillips, who was a cable car gripman, crushed Mitchell's brains out with an iron rod because the latter would not remove his feet from a car seat. Justifiable homicide was the plea made by the defense.

Germany to Seize an Island.

London, Nov. 14.—A special dispatch to the Standard from Bangkok says that the German warships Irene, Princess Wilhelm, Corloran and Kaiser suddenly anchored outside Amoy, and it is reported that they intend to occupy the Isl. of Quemoy as a coaling station.

A TEXAS TRAGEDY.

Woman and Child Murdered by an Unknown Man.

Laredo, Tex., Nov. 14.—A murder most foul, and in cruelty exceeding anything that has ever transpired in this vicinity, was unearthed yesterday, and the murderer has been found dead, he having committed suicide at a hotel, where he had registered Monday with a middle-aged woman and an 8-year-old girl as C. Shuler and family, of San Antonio. About 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the man procured a horse and buggy, ostensibly to drive his wife and child to the depot. About 4:30 he returned the buggy and proceeded to the hotel, ate supper and retired to his room. Early in the morning a Mexican shepherd discovered bodies of the woman and child lying in some brush about three miles northeast of the city. They were identified as having been seen with the so-called Shuler. The chief of police called at the hotel, when the man was found lying dead upon the bed, with a bullet in his heart. Under his pillow was found an insurance policy for $3,000 and a deed of trust executed for property in East St. Louis. From papers found it is believed that his name is Kuntz, and that he is from St. Louis.

SALISBURY'S FIRM STAND.

Approves Poincaré's Position on the Bering Sea Question.

London, Nov. 14.—The correspondence of the British government with Sir Julian Poincaré, British ambassador to the United States, upon the question of the Bering sea compensation from May, 1894, to August, 1895, was issued last night. Lord Salisbury writes Poincaré:

"The arguments you advance to support our claims have the entire approval and concurrence of the government. The attempt made by Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama, chairman of the United States senate committee on foreign relations, to dispute them seems largely founded on misapprehension, and the government cannot doubt when the facts are placed before the public of the United States the liability of the United States to make compensation, which has never been denied by the government, will generally be recognized, both in and outside of congress."

Tim Healy Turned Down.

Dublin, Nov. 14.—There were 100 delegates present at the meeting of the Irish National federation yesterday, called to consider the resolution expelling T. M. Healy from that organization. Mr. Louden's motion to remove Messrs. Healy, Arthur O'Connor, Dr. Fox, William Murphy and Joseph Mooney from the executive committee was adopted. Messrs. William Murphy and Joseph Mooney were, according to the terms of the resolution, also removed from the position of treasurers of the federation. This resolution of removal was adopted by a vote of 47 to 40, and amid cheers and counter-cheers, the meeting adjourned.

Rain and Snow in the West.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 14.—A heavy rain was general Tuesday night and yesterday all over Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Kansas, and it is still raining. There is either rain or snow all through the Missouri valley and west of the Colorado line. West of Long Pine the rain merges gradually into snow and a heavy snow storm is reported from the Black Hills. All the roads that enter Omaha report heavy rains along their lines.

Plainfield, Wis., Nov. 14.—A heavy snowstorm prevailed yesterday, the worse of the season. Sleet followed.

Grain Blockade at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 14.—There is no let-up in the grain receipts and the blockade at the rail elevators is constantly growing worse. The low stage of water is adding to the confusion, as many boats are on the bottom and block the channels, keeping all boats below them that could otherwise go to the docks and unload. The only remedy for the grain blockade is to allow the canal boats to carry some of the grain, but the railroads will not turn over a bushel as yet to the boats, although it is very apparent that they are flooded with the work.

Advises as to Monroe Doctrine.

London, Nov. 14.—The Graphic, commenting on the articles in the North American Review supporting the Monroe doctrine, says that if the people of the United States really care one cent for these Indo-Spanish republics, which is doubtful, the course of the government is clear. They must formally undertake the duties of a protection power, or, better still, annex these territories altogether. England, the Graphic concludes, will have little objection to either solution of existing difficulties.

Gaudaur Wants a Race.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14.—J. G. Gaudaur, champion sculler of America, has deposited $500 with the Globe in support of a challenge for $500 a side to C. R. Harding, the English champion. Gaudaur will take $50 expenses and row in England, or will allow $100 expenses if Harding comes to America.

Crack at the White House.

Washington, Nov. 14.—A man giving his name as Herman Hillyer and his home as in Missouri was taken in charge by the police at the white house yesterday, and his sanity will be inquired into. He said he was being chased by a swordfish.

DECISIVE BATTLE
WILL SOON OCCURSPANIARDS AND CUBANS PRE-PARE FOR A FIGHT.

Contest Expected to Settle the Revolution one Way or the Other—Maximo Gomez Now Moving His Troops in Santa Clara—Four Thousand Men in His Command.

Havana, Nov. 14.—The statement cable-d from the Correspondencia of Madrid from this city that Maximo Gomez had been routed is not true. Gomez has not been attacked by the Spanish forces. Gen. de Campos is now at his headquarters, the city of Santa Clara, laying out a plan of campaign which should result in a big engagement between the Spanish troops and the insurgents under Gomez. It is thought probable that this will be the decisive battle of the war in Cuba.

Maximo Gomez, with 4,000 followers, according to reports received by official circles here, has left Siguanaca, and is moving in the direction of the Remedios district.

ASK FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Holmes' Attorneys File Their Reasons for the Request.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14.—H. H. Holmes, the alleged multi-murderer, who was recently convicted of the murder of B. F. Pitzel, yesterday, through his counsel, filed reasons for a new trial. The grounds laid, which will be argued next Monday, are mainly, that the verdict was against the law and the evidence; new matter discovered since the trial; for the reason that the district attorney, in his opening speech, made statements which related to other crimes which could not be a part of the evidence, and they were of such a terrible nature that their effect on the jury was so adverse to the defendant that it was impossible for them to decide purely upon the evidence in the case; for the reason that the district attorney, in his closing speech, mentioned the death of the children, and the finding of their dead bodies in the morgue.

Alabama Political Situation.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 14.—Five hundred Populists, Republicans and disaffected Democrats attended yesterday's non-partisan, free silver and honest elections conference, held here under a call issued by Rev. S. M. Adams, state Populist chairman, and others. Congressman Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania declared that silver would be the issue next year, and the party that opposed it would be defeated. He will be found in the ranks of the party that decides for free coinage at 16 to 1. A resolution favoring the fusion of all parties in Alabama that are for free silver and honest elections was introduced and adopted. Kolb agreed to abide the conference's action, which means that the Populists, Republicans and disgruntled Democrats have pooled issues, and will put out a joint side ticket. A state conference for that purpose will be called soon.

Meet to Select a Bishop.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 14.—Delegates are here in numbers to attend the special convention called by Bishop Thomas Davies of Episcopal diocese of Michigan for the purpose of organizing the new diocese erected by the Minneapolis convention from the missionary jurisdiction of northern Michigan. There are three candidates for the bishopric. Marquette will present Rev. G. Mott Williams, present archdeacon of the jurisdiction; Escanaba will nominate Rev. Campbell Fair, rector of St. Mark's, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Sault Ste. Marie will support Rev. Arthur L. Williams of Chicago, and the name of Rev. Stephen W. Frisbie of Detroit has also been mentioned as a possibility.

Ex-Speaker Crisp for Silver.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 14.—By special invitation, conveyed by joint resolution of both houses, ex-Speaker Crisp, addressed the Georgia legislature last night on the political issues of the day. Mr. Crisp confined himself almost exclusively to the financial question, in the course of his remarks declaring himself unequivocally in favor of the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver, at a ratio of 16 to 1. Judge Crisp's speech is considered the opening one in his campaign for the United States senatorship to succeed Senator Gordon.

Section Men Slaughtered.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 14.—At the meeting of the Wabash Surgeons' Association Dr. Highsmith said twenty-eight deaths of section hands had come under his personal observation within the last few months. The public rarely hears of this class of deaths. It is every other physician of the 300 in the association has twenty deaths among section hands and brakemen within a year the total slaughter for the twelve months will reach the appalling figure of 6,000, and this on one system alone.

Australia Has a Poor Wheat Crop.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Times from Melbourne says that owing to the prolonged drought it is expected that the wheat yield in Australia will barely supply the local demand. The scarcity of pasturage will also greatly curtail the exports of butter.

A JAY UP THE ROAD TO SEND US CARDS

UNCLE SAM ELABORATES HIS SIGNAL SERVICE.

No More Telegraphic Forecasts, But Instead We Will Get Ready Made Prognostications by Mail, From Johnson's Creek, Jefferson County, Wis.—(See State Gazetteer.)

Uncle Sam is getting penurious and because of the hard times, etc., he has cut Janesville off the "weather forecast list." However, we are not to be left entirely at the mercy of the elements and without warning of the approach of whirlwinds, rains and dry spells. Up near Jefferson there is a hamlet called Johnson's Creek.
287 people live
there. They have two saloons, four blacksmith shops,
three creameries,
a harness shop, a leader of the brass
band, a meat
market, a lawyer,
and a doctor. Some one of these gentlemen is a second Irl R. Hicks, apparently, for they weather forecasts
up there and we are going to get them. When the village carpenter
bats his fingers
with a hammer
and the air becomes blue, then
this hand-me-
down weather
maker will mail a
postal card—yes,
a regular one cent postal card—this is no joke—to ex-weather man-ipulator, S. C.
Burnham, telling
him the weather
will be threaten-
ing. The next day in all probability, some ancient dame whose husband runs a transportation line between the creamery and the palatial union depot,
will squint at musk rat house and mail another postal card saying "cold wave."

Johnson's Creek
weather is said to be absolutely infallible, and Janesville people should congratulate themselves on the fact that we are to get it, and get it by mail. Postal cards
are never lost, because anybody can read what is on them without committing theft. Thus the curious postal clerks running between Johnson's Creek and Atla-zan can know the kind of weather
we are to have,
without opening a registered letter, or being tempted to
"swipe" the envelope because it is fat. This will be conducive to honesty on the part of the conductor of the Johnson's Creek-Atlan star route. And perhaps that is what Uncle Sam is figuring on.

If it is, may heaven help the billy-goat who is kicked Johnson Creekite to preserve his sterling honesty. Uncle
Sam's intentions are outlined in the following letter
sent to Ex-Weather
Clerk Burnham:

DEAR SIR: I am directed by the Chief of the Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., to inform you that owing to the necessity for immediate cartailment in telegraphic expenses of the Weather Bureau, it is necessary to discontinue telegrams to your address; but that action has been taken to have you supplied daily with forecasts by mail

from the distributing center at Johnson Creek, Wis., and it is hoped that the card forecast will reach you regularly and in time to be of benefit to the interests in your community. To enable this reduction in expense to take place, the
chief of the distributing bureau
has established
distributing centers at thirty points over the state. The establishment of those centers not only permits reduction of the expenses in telegraphic matter

but also allows the distribution by card of forecast
daily, to nearly one thousand additional towns over the state. It is believed this service will be nearly, if not as satisfactory
as the telegraphic service given you in the past. Very respectfully, CHAS. M. STRONG, Local Forecast Official in Charge.

each, and only half of them are shown. They will be sold at half price and on long

ther information
apply at the business office. The Gazette feels that it owes Johnson's Creek predictions more respect than to use old electro-

conscientious, pain-taking practitioner, and the public may rest assured that he will undertake no case beyond the reach of medical skill, for the sake of pecuniary gain. Dr. Brewer has traveled on the Michigan Southern

A BUNDLE OF NERVES.
Weak, Nervous, Tired, Sleepless
and Run Down.
Effect of Weak Nerves—Loss of Nerve Power.
Regain Health, Make Yourself
Strong by
The Great Restorer of Nerve Force,
And Energy.
Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Nothing is so common today as the complaint of weak nerves. You hear it in every walk of life. The housewife is worn out in her daily round of duties and is "just as nervous as a cat" over every little detail; the merchant is overcome with the burdens and cares of business; is "so tired out he doesn't know what to do;"
the professional man "has no interest in anything" he is so exhausted with his perplexing duties; almost everyone feels as if he or she "would fall to pieces," their nerves are so unstrung
with the excitement of our modern life. Every walk and occupation is strewn with innumerable wrecks of naturally strong and robust constitutions, which are the inevitable result of weak nerves. How shall it be remedied? Nothing will so surely and safely do this as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is the great nerve restorer, the remedy which strengthens and invigorates brain and nerves, builds up the blood and gives strength, energy and power to the body.
It will make you well and strong as it did Mrs. Emma Blodgett, of 48 Sixth St., Dover, N. H. She writes as follows:
"I had a severe trouble with my nerves, and also considerable difficulty with my stomach, such as the belching of gas and the usual pain and distress of a dyspeptic. I tried Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and it proved a blessing to me. I think everything of it and feel that I could not live without it."
"I had a friend in Brockton who had neuralgia about the heart and was confined to her bed, being unable to help herself. I recommended her to take Dr. Greene's Nervura and she sent for a bottle and commenced taking it. She was so bad she could not turn in bed without attacks of acute and distressing pain, but after using four doses of the medicine the pain left her and in two weeks she was out of bed. It was in my opinion a great victory for Dr. Greene's medicine. I always recommend Dr. Greene's Ner-vura blood and nerve remedy to sufferers wherever I meet them."
Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery
made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic disease
Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street,
New York City. If you take this medicine you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

CRANT IS LOOKING FOR HIS "AGENT"
INSURANCE MAN SEEKS AN AL-LEGED IMPOSTER,
Ho Sponged His Board And Everything Else in Sight as Well, Saying He Represented The "Prudential Company"—Good Description of Him
Given To The Police.
Agent L. F. Grant with the help of the police has been scouring the town
for a bogus insurance agent this week.
The man represents himself to be agent for the Prudential Insurance Company of New Jersey. Mr. Grant has lived here for some time and always thought he was the sole and only agent. He would think so still had not several persons about the city come to him with board bills contracted by his "agent."
The alleged agent seems to have gone about with his pockets full of circulars, and seemed to sponge his board and everything else he could get. At August Linneman's on Race street he managed to stay three weeks, when he was let out on the account of being poor pay. He next visited the Earle residence on West Bluff street, but was allowed to stay there only a week. He tried his best to engage board with William White, 218 South Main street, but managed to stay only two days, when he was ousted and the matter reported to Mr.
Grant. A good description of the man has been given to the police.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO SOLICIT
Business Men Take Action on the Dry
Extract Co's Plan.
The matter of bonding the Dry Extract Company was the subject under consideration at the adjourned
meeting of the Business Men's association held last evening and on the motion of Secretary Frank Haselton President Vankirk appointed John M. Whitehead, W. E. Evenson, and W. H. Greenman a committee to canvass the city for the sale of the bonds.
The action was taken after the committee named to get the proposition in shape had reported, through the chairman, A. P. Burnham. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion
at the meeting was that "Milking" was an excellent preparation and that the plant was one the city cannot afford to lose. The food possesses several points of superiority and the sale of it is increasing every day. It is expected that the bonds can be placed in very short order as the committee who have looked into the matter show great faith in the article.

THE LOCAL OVERFLOW.

DEER ARE THICK IN THE WOODS

Hunters Say They are Very Plentiful This Year.

The northern woods are fairly alive with deer; Indians and hunters are shooting in the thickets, is rather a dangerous pastime, because of the inexperience of some of the men who are carrying 44-calibre Winchester rifles through the woods. That was the statement that William Simmons, of Belmont, Wis., made to a Gazette reporter at the St. Paul depot this morning. Simmons was on his way home from the northern forest, and wore a fanciful buckskin suit. He is an old-time hunter, and had two large bucks weighing three hundred pounds each to back up his reputation.

"I could just as well have killed a wagon load," he said, "for the woods in the vicinity of Clear Crooked Lake were fairly alive with deer. But the Indians are about as thick as the deer and they are out for all the meat they can get. The best hunting regions are in the very heart of the present Chippewa Reservation."

Hunters who are returning from the Northern woods report that few sportsmen are using dogs there this year, owing to the fact that the game warden is enforcing the law to the letter.

The Law Is Strict.

Section 27 of the fish and game law prohibits the shipment of deer within or out of the state except when accompanied by the owner, and then not more than two carcasses at a time. Railroads transporting deer under other circumstances render themselves liable to prosecution. The penalty for violation of this law is less than $25 or more than $100.

The effect of Section 27, Simmons said, will be to greatly lessen the slaughter of deer, inasmuch as it makes impossible any pot-hunting operations or killing deer for the market; and if a man cannot bring home more than two deer, nor sell them on the ground because they cannot be shipped anywhere without the owner accompanying each two of them, there is no incentive for him to kill more than two, instead of, as heretofore, as many as he could get.

The Columbia Opera Company will open a three nights' engagement at the Myers Grand tonight with "Said Pasha." The company will play at popular prices and doubtless they will do a good business as Janesville people have seen them before, and therefore know what to expect.

Winslow's Purchase.

F. S. Winslow purchased today $8,000 worth of the Lowell Annex stock of clothing, and intends opening it up at his River street store tomorrow morning. He paid but little for it, and is going to sell it for figures that will appear more like shoe figures than clothing. The sale is to be short and to the point. Thursday is the day of opening.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1716—Baron Gottfried Wilhelm Leibnitz, the great German thinker and mathematician, acknowledged by contemporaries to be a universal genius, died in Hanover; born 1646. Leibnitz entered the university at Leipzig in his sixteenth year, where he studied law, philosophy and mathematics. He acquired a profound knowledge of the works of Plato and Aristotle, and projected an encyclopedia of sciences. He produced a series of works upon politics, religion and philosophy. His career was crowned by the work entitled "The Goodness of God, the Liberty of Man and the Origin of Evil."

1797—Sir Charles Lyell, noted geologist, born; died 1875.

1828—General James Birdseye McPherson, commander of the Army of the Tennessee, born in Sandusky, O.; killed at the battle of Bald Hill July 22, 1864.

1831—Hegel, German philosopher, died; born 1770.

1894—Charles E. Strong, a prominent newspaper manager of Chicago, died in that city; born 1841.

THE APPORTIONMENT.

There is a big difference between the Anderson and the Turner apportionment—the difference that exists always between dark-lantern political plots and honest measures. When the democratic apportionment was made not even the rank and file of democratic assemblymen saw it until Boss Wall threw it on the assembly reading desk and ordered them to vote. A week of open discussion would have killed the scheme or buried the democratic party under its shame.

Today, how different! Maps, schedules and ratio tables of the proposed apportionment are distributed broadcast two weeks before the bill comes up. Criticism is invited, that any weak points may be amended, any unfairness redressed. The end of democratic rule marked the end of dark lantern politics in Wisconsin.

Should Joe Blackburn take a notion to express his opinion of the two C's—Cleveland and Carlisle—on the floor of the senate, the Congressional Record would have to choose between expurgating his speech or getting shut out of the mails.

There isn't much of the democratic party now, and by the time the Cleveland democrats and the anti-Cleveland democrats get through fighting each other the party will be nothing more than an unsavory memory.

Doubtless the whole population feels that way but Secretary Morton is the only member who has publicly "rubbed it in" on Hill, Gorman and Price.

Because everything now looks favorable to republican success in 1896, the importance of party harmony should not be forgotten. Remember '92.

It is not altogether certain that having a nomination equivalent to an election is the best condition of affairs for a political party.

If Mr. Cleveland attempts the role of being the democratic party's Moses it will be another case of the blind leading the blind.

Other things being equal, the candidate who hopes to be is preferable to the candidate who has been.

The United States is not only a Nation with a big N but it is a Republican Nation with a big R.

Soliloquy of Richard Croker: "I care not who holds the offices, so they buy 'em of me."

Rock county would like a senator and three assemblymen, but she won't be greedy.

Next to Your Wife

Your best friend is your underwear and why not have it good when it don't cost any more than poor goods. Any man that puts on a suit of Staley underwear and keeps it on, he will always have a friend. It has made us lots of friends and good customers. Two suits of No. 219 costs $4.00. No other house in the city can show it to you. Frank H. Baack.

TOWN TALES OF THE DAY.

THERE is always plenty of those cheap, rocky suits and overcoats on the market that are dear at any price; but good honest clothing with Adler Brothers' label on it are not so plenty. They cost a little more, but are worth it, and are not half worn out by packing and moving from place to place. The best is cheapest. F. H. Baack.

Don't throw your money away these hard times by spending it for cheap, trashy clothing. It is a hard game to beat to put it against these move around sales. Such goods are high priced at any price. A suit or overcoat with Adler Bros' label on it is sufficient to make it good. Think of how you will scold after you have tried to beat the "move around game." Frank H. Baack.

Howard & Osborn Company Have Their Baggage Attached in Fort Atkinson.

A RELIABLE PILE CURE.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the safest and surest pile cure on the market, because it contains no mineral poisons nor opium nor cocaine, but can be used with absolute safety and certainty of cure.

Many physicians are now using the Pyramid Pile Cure in place of surgical operations, being painless, convenient to use, and the patient can attend to his daily occupation while the cure is being made, as it is used at night and no additional treatment is necessary.

Dr. Wharton says the Pyramid Pile Cure will prove a blessing to mankind, when it is remembered that heretofore a surgical operation was considered the only cure with all its danger to life, intense pain and an expense of from ten to one hundred dollars, to say nothing of the possible return of the trouble. The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 Cents and $1.00 and does the work quickly and safely.

A book on cause and cure of piles will be mailed free by addressing Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

NO TRACE OF STRONG HAS YET BEEN FOUND

MISSING MAN HAS NOT BEEN LOCATED.

Friends Say He Will Appear To Be Rational But Will Not Be Able To Account For Himself—Said To Have Been at Camp Douglas on Sunday.

No trace of Ernest R. Strong has yet been found, although every effort has been made to locate him by his friends and the police. People who know him say he will probably appear to be perfectly rational, but will not know where he is. It was in this condition that he was found at the time of his last disappearance. At that time he was gone three days, and on his return home, was unable to tell where he had been, or what had happened to him. He will be apt, his friends say, to go to some hotel and register under his own name, but still be unable to account for himself. Fort Atkinson people are scouring the country in search of Mr. Strong, and are sparing no expense to find him.

ERNEST R. STRONG.

How He Was Dressed

They have sent out hundreds of circulars giving an accurate description of him, and requesting any one who sees him to at once notify Chief of Police Acheson, of this city, or Henry Flint, chief of police of Fort Atkinson. The description is as follows:

Height, 5 feet 5 1/2 inches; weight, 125 pounds; eyes, brown; age 37; hair, black, medium cut, slightly grey on temples; beard, full, cropped, and jet black. He has a wart on the right cheek bone, which had been nearly cut off by a barber. He wore a double breasted coat of black cheviot with either a vest of the same or a maroon sweater. His trousers were of a greyish blue color, and he wore a yachting cap.

Seen at Camp Douglas

No trace of him had been found, except that it was said he had been seen at Camp Douglas Sunday evening and took an east bound train. The last news of him was that he was seen at Milton Junction Thursday afternoon at about 5 o'clock. A. R. Hoard, Frank W. Hoard and Harry Curtis of Fort Atkinson went to Milton Monday but found no clue with which to work. They went to Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison and Tuesday were in Milwaukee but failed to find any trace that would lead to discovery. C. A. Caswell spent Monday in Chicago but could not find that he had been there. Photographs of him are in the hands of the police at Chicago and Milwaukee.

HAVE ENTERED INTO PEACE

Funeral of Mrs. Curtis.

Under a lowering sky the friends of Mrs. Nellie Hunt Curtis gathered at the Chicago & Northwestern depot today to escort the lifeless clay to its last resting place. Only brief announcement of the hour for the funeral was possible but many gathered to pay a last tribute of love. The party left the depot at 2 o'clock and there were brief services at the vault. Rev. Dr. Easley officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Dodge. The pall bearers were all old friends of Rev. Mr. Curtis in Court street church—Judge M. M. Phelps, L. B. Carle, S. C. Burnham, H. F. Bliss, W. H. Bonesteel and E. W. Lowell.

The welfare of his child and other considerations forbade Mr. Curtis crossing the water. He was obliged to remain in Edinburg, therefore, and the time of his arrival in the United States is unknown. Letters from him and from Mrs. C. A. Hunt in the last day or two have been of an encouraging nature, considerably relieving the apprehension of Janesville friends.

Mrs. Eaton.

Word came to the city today that Mrs. E. Eaton, mother of Rev. E. L. Eaton, formerly of Court Street church, was dead in Hebron. Rev. Dr. Eaton was notified of her death by telegram and hastened to Hebron from Racine at once.

JANESVILLE ASKED FOR $138.99 MORE

TO PUT IN PHONES FOR $6 A YEAR

NEW COMPANY HAS TAKEN TO THE FIELD.

Their Plan is to Get Three Hundred Subscribers All of Whom are To Be Stockholders in the Company—The Proposition Laid Before the Business Men.

Janesville's new telephone company has taken to the field.

Representatives of the new corporation today began a quiet canvass, and are now laying their proposition before some of the business men of the town.

Their plan contemplates the establishing of an exchange of at least three hundred subscribers. Each subscriber of that number will buy a share of the stock in the company, at $50 a share. He then gets his telephone for fifty cents a month, or $6 a year. Under this arrangement, the subscribers will get the instrument that now costs him $36 per annum for $6, the $30 difference representing the interest, so to speak, on his $50 investment. When the three hundred original subscribers are secured, the exchange will be started, and after that, the stockholders will also get their pro rata of profit on each new subscriber, in addition to the cheap telephone.

The mechanical arrangements are in charge of an expert electrical engineer, and the company making the proposition is the Western Telephone Construction Company, the organization which was noted in The Gazette some days ago. The company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000, and proposes to push the work aggressively.

A COWBOY RACE.

A pattering rush like the rattle of hail
When the storm king's wild coursers are out on the trail,
A long roll of hoofs—and the earth is a drum!
The centaurs! See! Over the prairie they come!
A rollicking, clattering, battering beat,
A rhythmical thunder of galloping feet,
A swift swirling dustcloud—a mad hurricane
Of swartly grim faces and tossing black mane.
Hurrah! In the face of the steeds of the sun
The gauntlet is flung and the race is begun!
—J. C. Davis.

THE PRIMULA LADY.

I entirely forget the name of the opera, what it was about and who sang in it, but I know it was the first I ever saw—if indeed I can be said to have seen it! At all events, I was present at the performance, and the evening and its occurrences are indelibly stamped on my memory. I was 17, thoroughly unmusical, but possessed of a keen sense of enjoyment, and the scene, looked upon for the first time in my life, delighted me. The fair faces, the gorgeous toilets, the hum of voices, the light, the movement, all combined to quicken the beat of my pulse and make me feel giddy and light headed.

The curtain went up, and after the first few minutes I began to be bored. It was a heavy opera, so I was told, with no "airs" in it, and full of loud, deafening choruses. It seemed to me there were nothing but choruses—choruses of monks and soldiers and village maidens and peasants—and the noise worried me. I did not understand the plot, and I turned to the spectators for amusement. Opposite to us, in a box immediately facing ours, sat a couple whose appearance arrested my attention. I could not see the lady's face, for it was turned away from me toward the stage, but in her hair was a diamond comb of quaint design that took my fancy. Against the smooth dark tresses the stones sparkled and glittered as in a setting of onyx. It was a warm evening, but she kept her brocade cloak of a curious shade of Rose du Barri pink shot with gold wrapped closely round her. She had no bouquet, but in front of her, on the ledge of the box, was an enormous black feather fan mounted in tortoise shell. Her companion—a slight man with a pale olive complexion and dark beard streaked with gray—had a face that interested me strangely. It wore such a weary expression—more weary perhaps than actually sad. He looked like a man who at some time or other during his life had made an effort beyond his strength and had never recovered from the exertion. Like me, he did not appear to be interested in the story of the opera.

The noise went on. The peasants retired, and after a short love scene between the hero and the heroine a band of soldiers came on and sang to some very loud music. I leaned back in my seat. My head was beginning to ache and my eyes to feel tired. I closed them, simply for a few minutes' rest. When I opened them, they seemed to light naturally on my opposite neighbors, and I started as I noticed the changed aspect of the box. The lady had evidently thrown off her cloak and had come more forward. Her eyes were no longer fixed on the stage. They were turned toward me. And what different eyes they were from those I thought she would possess. They were soft and veiled by lashes very little darker than her hair, which could scarcely be termed golden, it was so fair. How could I have believed her to be a brunette? She must have been seated in the shade when I first saw her and had since emerged into the light. She had moved her fan, and in its place lay a bouquet of mauve and white primulas. A small bunch of the same flowers were pinned into her simple high white dress at the throat and another showed among the loosely coiled tresses of her fair hair.

"It cannot be the same woman," I said to myself, "and yet my eyes were not closed for more than a minute or two, I am certain. There could not have been time—and yet"—The irritating accompaniment to the "recitative," the perfume of my chaperon hostess' bouquet, the effort to explain the mystery, the unusualness of the scene, and the exhausted state of the air, all combined to produce an overpowering effect on my brain. I closed my eyes again and was very nearly asleep—not quite, I am certain—when a touch from Mrs. Waldo's fan and the sound of a light, unfamiliar laugh recalled me to myself and to a consciousness of my duty.

The first act had come to an end, and a gentleman had just entered our box to pay his respects to my chaperon, who forthwith introduced us, "Mr. Venning, Miss Linthrop." I bowed and felt very sheepish. I had literally been caught napping. Mrs. Waldo's explanation was not soothing:

"Miss Linthrop is unaccustomed to late hours, Mr. Venning. This is her first season, and her very first opera. I wish for her sake that it had been a more amusing one. Valezzi has clearly mistaken his vocation. He must never attempt another opera, must he? This one is deplorably dull."

"It is, as far as we have gone. But still one's first opera is always—one's first opera, and one is too well amused to be hypercritical. I'm sure Miss Linthrop wasn't bored, although she might have been a little sleepy?"

"I was not at all bored," I replied, and then going straight to the point, as has ever been my wont, I continued: "Who are the people—the lady and gentleman in the opposite box—the lady with"—"With the primulas," I was going to say. But, lo! they had vanished, and so had she, and in her place sat the tall dark woman in the pink brocade cloak with the diamonds in her hair.

"The lady with the magnificent cloak?" said Mr. Venning interrogatively. "That is Baroness Kurz, and that is her husband with her—or rather he was with her a moment ago; but, as you see, he has just left the box."

"Who is Baron Kurz?" asked Mrs.

Waldo. "I am perpetually hearing of him. German, of course?"

"Only partly so," replied Mr. Venning. "He is the son of a Scotchman, who made a good deal of money in California, and I believe his mother was a Pole. He was brought up by a German grandfather, whose name he eventually took. He is a clever fellow, but an unhappy one, I always fancy. She was a Miss Charcote, a daughter of Lady Jane Charcote."

"But who was the other lady in the box?"—I inquired eagerly—"the lady with the primulas?"

"There was no other lady in Kurz's box tonight, Miss Linthrop. You must have been looking at some other box."

Mrs. Waldo laughed. "My young friend has been dreaming, Mr. Venning."

I scorned the imputation, but they would not believe me, and they were still laughing when the door opened and old Lord Saintsbury peeped in.

"Very merry here."

"My friend Miss Linthrop declares that she has seen a lady with primulas in her hair—such a terrible decoration—seated in Baron Kurz's box this evening," said Mrs. Waldo in her loud, clear, penetrating voice, that carried farther than any voice I have ever heard.

I noticed a shade flit across Lord Saintsbury's face. He turned his head sharply and glanced back. Then, stepping quickly into the box, he shut the door behind him.

"Why so mysterious?" asked Mrs. Waldo, smiling.

"Kurz was just behind me. He must have heard what you said." And the old gentleman looked genuinely distressed.

"But why not? We were only laughing at my young friend here. Are you going, Mr. Venning?"

I began to be afraid that I had made a goose of myself. And Lord Saintsbury was looking so solemn. Perhaps that was because he was in the ministry.

"Mrs. Waldo," he began, as soon as Mr. Venning had disappeared, "don't repeat that little story about—the lady with the primulas. It"—

"My dear Lord Saintsbury, why mayn't I? I love a little anecdote, and this is such a thrilling one."

"But you would not like to cause pain, I am sure."

"And you think Miss Linthrop so very thin skinned that she cannot take a little chaff?"

"It is not on her account that I am speaking. You may or may not have heard that Miss Charcote was not Kurz's first wife. No? Well, she was not. His first wife was a girl of the people—some said a nursemaid, some a peasant. It really doesn't signify which. At all events, she was neither a lady by birth nor a person of education. After a time he grew tired of her. His father died, and he came into money. He began to go in for society. He met Miss Charcote. One night—it was at the Grand Opera in Paris—she was seated for some time in Lady Jane Charcote's box. His wife was alone in the loge opposite. What she saw or thought I don't know, but when he returned to her she complained of feeling very tired, and he suggested that they should go home. She fainted on the staircase and was carried into their brougham. That same night she died. It was very sudden and rather mysterious."

"Good gracious! Did any one suspect the baron of having poisoned his wife?"

"Not that I know of. But they did say that his neglect had broken her heart. But to come to the point of my story. The first baroness Kurz—Rosine—was a fair, blue eyed woman, with a passion for primulas. In Paris, where she had no acquaintances and was only known by sight, and by many people was not supposed to be Kurz's wife, she always went by the name of 'the lady with the primulas.' That is why I was startled and upset by what you told me. That was why I was distressed that the flower should have been mentioned in Kurz's hearing—for hear I am sure he did."

It was my turn to feel distressed—distressed, but at the same time vividly interested. I was just going to ask Lord Saintsbury whether he had ever known Rosine personally, when Mr. Venning reappeared, and at the same moment I noticed that while we had been discussing the first Baroness Kurz her successor had disappeared from the opposite box—had left the house probably, I thought, bored by the dullness of act I.

"Such an awful thing has happened!" Mr. Venning's face was pale, and his voice sounded low and hoarse. "Kurz has fallen down dead, just outside the omnibus box."

"Good gracious, how dreadful! But very likely he has only fainted."

Mr. Venning shook his head. "Cleveland met him looking ghastly—you know he does sometimes. And he asked him, 'Are you ill, Kurz?' And the other just stared at him and muttered: 'True, true! She has come for me, and fell back dead.'"

I started to my feet. "Mrs. Waldo, I must go home. Please let me. Don't you come, but"—

"My dear child," and her voice sounded a shade harder and louder than usual, "don't make a scene, please." Our visitors had vanished at the bare mention of such a possibility, ever dreaded and held in abhorrence by the sterner sex.

"But I cannot stay. Didn't you hear? He is dead."

Mrs. Waldo stared at me with a look of derision on her handsome stony face. "But you did not know him. It is not customary for young ladies to make scenes over the death of a man they never knew. Such things are not done."

"Ah, but you don't understand. I saw her."

"Her? Whom?"

"The lady with the primulas—his first wife. She came to fetch him. He said so—you heard."

"My dear child, what nonsense! You were dreaming, of course. Hush! We must not talk any more now. We must listen."

And the curtain rose upon act 2.—St. James Budget.
